

La Dolce Vita – Enjoying Leadership Transformation – Spring 2018, Italy

Join us for an extraordinary three-day event in Italy this autumn and experience leadership development in a unique and fun way.

Being a great leader means consistently thriving for outstanding performance and effectiveness in yourself and others around you. Plus, today's multicultural world offers even more opportunities for continuous learning and personal growth. Mindful Leadership Transformation in context with an exciting international environment expands your ability to focus on key elements of success. Golf is an excellent game to learn more about your inner leadership skills and how those are subject to internal and external inspirations.

The Experience

Our intense 3-day workshop is designed to initiate your leadership transformation with the goal to release your highest level of performance in challenging situations. This means being able to focus and balance yourself mentally and physically. It leads to finding fulfillment by converting challenges into opportunities.

Experiencing a new culture abroad is an excellent way to learn about your abilities to immerse into the unknown and ambiguity. Performing at your highest level in challenging situations means curiosity, openness, non-judgment, and enjoyment at the same time.

The Design

Our inspirational and exclusive program combines learning modern-day leadership and experiential learning elements. Using the golf course as a learning platform is a unique and energizing way to implement the mindful approach to leadership.

Combining all of these elements while enjoying the inspirational atmosphere of Italy is the icing on the cake!

The Travelers

Participants will be executives, like you, who travel the path to high-performance and success. Golfers and non-golfers are welcomed.

Your key benefits

- Understanding the foundations of a Global and Growth Mindset
- Learn to develop your inner leadership skills
- Build up habits and behaviors for mental and physical toughness
- Create your own way to enjoy challenges in golf as well as in business
- Enhance your and your team's performance and results
